Who Capture Their Plunder and Ef fect an Escape

Tuesday night the residence at No. 2007 Cass street, occupied by General Crook, Lieutenant John G. Bourke and Dr. Barnett, was the scene of daring and successful burglary. The thieves, who seem to have been professionals, obtained entrance by the basement door in the rear, the lock being skilfully removed by the use of brace and bit. Once inside the building, the marauders proceeded leisurely to rifle the basement and lower story Drippings of candle grease show that they took in every room on the lower floor, and then ascended the stairs to Dr. Barnett's sleeping room on the first floor, where they took everything portable of value, excepting a kit of mackerel and a box of everlasting mustard plasters. Dr. Barnett's loss includes a gold watch, $40 in currency, and orders and checks for a considerable amount. From the doctor's room a trip was taken up stairs to the second floor. General Crook and Lieutenant Bourke occupy rooms in the front of the house, the small room in the rear being occupied by Peter, the man servant. Peter's clothing was rifled of $4 or $5 in money. While they were at the head of the landing, and before they had entered General Crook's sleeping apartments, Dr. Barnett wakened up and heard them moving overhead. He called out "Is that you, Peter?" supposing it was his servant. Some one answering "Umph, umph", the doctor thought it was all right, and after saying that it was too early in the morning to be moving around and making so much noise turned over and went to sleep. The thieves alarmed slipped down stairs and made their escape. The burglary must have been committed between and 3 o'clock, as one of the officers did not retire until the former hour.

FOR FIVE YEARS.

The City Attorney Follows in the Footsteps of the Father of His Country,

In accepting the resignation of Gen. C. F. Manderson, Tuesday, Mayor Boyd, in his letter to the council, said: "I would be direlict in duty did I not bear testimony to his ability as an attorney, to his faithfulness and unremitting care in guarding the city's interest, and to thank him for the many, very many courtesies extended to me during the past year."

General Manderson's latter to Mayor Boyd said: "Appointed by Hon. R. H. Wilbur, mayor of Omaha, to the position of city attorney in August, 1877. I have since that date continued in that employment through the kind appreciation of Hon. C. S. Chase, yourself (Mayor Boyd) and the gentlemen composing the council. During these five important years in the growth of the city, its legal business has increased largely, and the de-mands upon the time and labor of its attorney are constant. As in duty bound during several years past, I have given the municipal affairs my attention, in preference to my own and those of personal clients. latter less important interests have necessarily suffered somewhat, and now demand a degree of care that I will be unable to bestow and con tinue in official place."

"For the kind consideration so fre quently granted to me and to my as-sociate, Mr. Congdon, by you and your predecessors in office, and the centlemen of the city council,

I am, very respectfully yours, CHAS. F. MANDERSON.

The Links are Forged to Draw the Trunk Lines Into this City.

The following from The Chresgo city of all the Iowa trunk lines:

"The Chicago & Northwestern railway announces that it has, in connection with the Union Pacific railway. established a fast freight line between Chicago and Denver and other points in Colorado. All Denver freight is loaded in Chicago in solid car loads, and goes through to its destination without transfer or breaking bulk at the Missouri river The same is true of east-bound freight, it being loaded in solid car loads in Denver and run through to Chicago without transfer. Whether this arrangement is due to the construction of an independent line to Denver by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, or whether it is a general arrangement made with all the Iowa lines could not be learned last evening. The likelihood is, how ever, that it is a general arrangement which applies to all the lines, and that it was agreed upon at the meeting of the Iowa po. I held in St. Louis yesthe late meeting held at the city terday. That such is the case is inducouncil room by the fire department cated by the announcement made by the Chicago, Burlington & Oniney last evening that it has also established a fast freight line for all points in Colorado which is now in full working order, and that it gives shippers the choice of three routes, all of which make very fast time. This of course means that the Burlington runs its fast freight lines over the Union Pacific, Kansas Pacific, and Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, its own line to Denver having not yet been completed. DR. D. BANKS MC'KENZIE.

A Prominent Citizen of Utah Er Route Home from Washington

Dr. D. Banks McKenzie, who was several years ago in this city and en gaged in the work of temperance reform, came in from the east Tuesday and registered at the Metropolitan. Since left Salt Lake City, where he now resides and is one of the most prominent and respected Gentiles, he has made an extended tour in the east and spent some time in Washington city, laboring in the interests of the polygamy reform bill, doing excellent work in the cause. He delivered his lecture on "The "Philosophy of Reform" before the congressional committee before which the Edmunds bill was sent and also delivered the same at several eastern cities, the press everywhere, eulogizing it in the highest terms. The doctor is now en route home, via Denver, and as he has never before visited that "Magic City of the Plains" he is commended to the good graces of her citizens as a gentlemen and a scholar, as well as one of the most energetic citizens of Salt Lake City. He is an eloquent speaker and they will miss a treat if they fail to induce him to deliver the lecture above referred to during his stay among them.

The result was a surprise party, and it is claimed mistake was discovered. A motion to TWENTY-FIVE CENTS reconsider was made and carried by a vote of four to two, Ferguson voting for reconsideration. McShane virtu tually acquiesced in this action by voting on subsequent ballots.

Tuesday McShane presented his bond and claimed the election, on the rength of Points' mistake, but the bond was refused. He then declared his intention to carry the case into the courts and claimed at least the time of the March strike they voluntarily raised the rates to $4.50 per day, which is all they can afford at the price under which their contracts are taken. This is he claims higher than the ruling rates elsewhere in cities of this size, and unless the men willing to work at ruling figures.

THE CONTRACTORS' STORY.

They Cannot Afford to Raise th Wages of Plasterers Higher.

One of the prominent contractors in the city called at THE BEE office sterday to make a statement in regard to the strike of the plasterers for a raise of wages from $4.50 to $5. The men claim that at the time of the recent labor troubles their wages were raised to $4.50 with the promise that their demand of $5 per day would be fully complied with on May 1st, on which day they failed to come to time.

A Plurality of The Name of Sherms That is Not Desirable.

The great object in having the streets in a city named is to furnish a guide, by means of which different places can be located. For this very reason it is evident that no two streets should bear the same name number. Sherman is undoubtedly a good name, but it is al most too much of a thing when there were two avenues and one street, in this city, known by that name. Sherman avenue, No 1, is a continuation of Sixteenth street, and, it is claimed, is the best entitled to the name, by reason of having first adopted it.

From unknown reason the people residing on St. Mary's avenue, in the vicinity of its interstction with Park general court martial convened at Fort avenue, have changed the name to Sherman avenue. We do not pretend to say to whem the name belongs exclusively, but we do say that it is a great inconvenience to the public We have heard a great many complaints from people who have been sent to either one locality or the other only to discover that they were en tirely in the wrong place. To add still more to the confusion there is Sherman street running between 18th and 20th streets, parallel to Paul. Even when one is known as an avenue and the other a street there will be many mistakes made by people who do not happen to be well acquainted with the city.
